

Nebraska Heart Institute

The Nebraska Heart Institute and Heart Hospital provide a comprehensive program of cardiology services including prevention, diagnostics and treatment. By utilizing a team-based approach, Nebraska Heart cardiologists and surgeons are able to work with the patient's primary care physician to establish the best course of treatment.

Nebraska Heart provides leading-edge services in the fields of invasive and interventional cardiology, as well as cardiac, vascular, and thoracic surgery. Annually, Nebraska Heart performs more than 4,500 diagnostic catheterizations, 1,300 interventions, and 700 open-heart surgeries. New advances, along with established protocols and participation in national clinical trials, all provide Nebraska Heart the finest resources in treating heart and vascular disease.
